

Occupy isn't about camping. It's about who we want to be as Americans.

You don't have to sleep in a tent to understand what's wrong with our economic and political system.

You don't have to march in the streets to believe that we should have a healthy economy for all & a government that serves the people.

You don't have to get pepper-sprayed to change the direction of our country..

BUT WHAT ARE YOUR DEMANDS?

Who hasn't heard the complaint, "I don't know what the Occupy movement wants!"? Don't believe the spin!

While the Occupy Movement has as many specific demands as there are Occupy supporters, there are consistent, overriding concerns common to almost all of them. The Occupy Movement started because Americans have had enough of an economy that has raided the 99% for the benefit of the 1%. The Occupy Movement started because our politics and government---our Constitutional means by which we address our national problem and concerns--have been hijacked by big money. So, not only do we have a major problem (a rigged economy), we have no means to truly correct it (a broken democracy).

WHAT DO WE WANT?

A fair economy, a people-powered government—and accountability for those who are screwing them up.

WHEN DO WE WANT IT?

"Now" would be great. But we know change takes work, and fixing big problems take a lot of work. So let's get to work.

For true change to happen-- communities across the country--from "the hood" to "the burbs" and every farm and metropolis in between—must get organized:

- To raise consciousness about the problems.
- To educate about and brainstorm solutions.
- To join together to demand the systemic changes we need.
